"Come home to Cape Cod"

Cover Artist: Odin Kaeslau Smith

Odin Kaeslau Smith is a native Cape Cod artist who resides in Harwich MA, with her husband and five young sons whose ages range from 1 to 11 years old. She is a full-time mother who uses her "spare" moments to capture time, light and emotion through her artwork.

As a "stay-at-home" mom, Odin often has the wonderful opportunity to find her subjects during the many outings she takes with her children. Her watercolor and pastel paintings are inspired frequently by the beautiful Cape Cod images that have imprinted themselves in her senses since she was a small child. She enjoys recreating her subjects in a manner that fills them with light and life. Painting is her way of sharing the powerful emotions that fill her when she is drawn to a subject.

Mrs. Smith is a watercolor and pastel artist who is primarily self-taught. She feels that each painting or illustration is a discovery and education in itself, and is always open to new ideas. She has been juried into many shows and exhibits, including the Cahoon Museum of American Art's "Women Creating" show, the Leo Diehl Exhibition, and the All Cape Art Show. She is also a professional illustrator, with experience in magazine illustration. Odin is a member of the Guild of Harwich Artists, the Pastel Painters Society of Cape Cod, the Creative Arts Center in Chatham, and an Artist Member of the Cape Cod Art Association.

THANK YOU FOR VISITING EASTHAM

HISTORY OF EASTHAM

When Champlain entered Nauset Harbor in 1605 Native American homes were visible on the hills. They had successfully occupied Cape Cod for ten thousand years. They harvested plant foods that grew around them, game from the hardwood forests, fish and shellfish in the fresh and salt waters. They also raised crops of vegetables such as corn and squash to round out a healthy and varied diet. White settlers and their European diseases decimated the Native American population but words from their language such as Aspinet, Nauset, Samoset, and Massasoit are still in common use today. White settlers arrived from the Plymouth Colony in 1644 to settle a large area of the Lower Cape including present day Eastham. In 1651 the town of Eastham was incorporated. In 1797 the southern half split from the northern half to become the town of Orleans. They supported their families by farming and fishing. At one time the production of salt and the growing of asparagus and turnips were important industries. The hardwood forests were cut for lumber and fuel and to create fields. By 1900 Eastham was devoid of trees as can be seen in old photographs. The soil is poor and property is now more valuable as homesites so the farms are gone. However, fishing is still a local industry. Summer visitors started arriving when the railroad arrived on the Lower Cape. They stayed in hotels and boarding houses or bought houses and brought their families for the whole summer. Eastham still has many small three-season houses and cottages. With the advent of the automobile visitors can now comfortably come for a day or weekend as well as for longer periods of time.

Eastham has retained its rural flavor while next door Orleans has become the commercial hub of the Lower Cape. The creation of the Cape Cod National Seashore in 1961 has helped to preserve the rural flavor and prevented over development. The population, which fluctuates with the seasons, is an eclectic blend of descendants of the original settlers, young families, retirees, summer people, and tourists.

Beaches/Town Landings

Beautiful beaches are one of the main reasons people choose to visit Eastham. The white sands invite beach chairs, towels, shovels and pails. The clean, clear waters beckon swimmers, waders and surfers. Year-round they are used by walkers, fishermen, shellfishermen, bird watchers, and for watching the sun rise in the morning and set in the evening. There are two major beaches on the Atlantic Ocean and several on the calmer, warmer Cape Cod Bay. There are also beaches on freshwater Great and Herring Ponds. Town landings provide access to both fresh and salt waters.

BICYCLE TRAILS

Cycling is a wonderful way to explore the Cape. Ride miles of paved bicycle trails through woods and fields, by cranberry bogs, freshwater ponds, and saltwater marshes.

The Cape Cod Rail Trail is a thirty-mile-long path that follows the bed of the former Penn Central Rail Road. It winds through the towns of Dennis, Harwich, Brewster, Orleans, Eastham, and Wellfleet. There are parking areas and informational signs for this trail. It passes close to several places where food and beverages may be obtained. One section leaves the rail bed to cross the Mid Cape Highway via roads. A bridge for the trail to cross the highway has been approved and is under construction.

It provides internet access, copier, FAX services, and museum passes. It also has a fine collection of local history and genealogy resources. Special activities for children are held year-round. Check the Calendar of Events or call the library at 508-240-5950.

CAPE COD NATIONAL SEASHORE

In 1961 President Kennedy signed a bill which forever protected over 40,000 acres and almost 30 miles of shoreline on Cape Cod from Chatham to Provincetown. The National Seashore maintains beaches, hiking and biking trails, and historic buildings for the enjoyment of all. It has two visitor centers, one in Eastham and the other in Provincetown.

The Salt Pond Visitor Center in Eastham is on the corner of Route 6 and Doane Road and is open daily 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. The Visitor Center will be closed for renovation from mid-October 2002, until spring 2004. 508-255-3421, www/nps/gov/caco.

It features an auditorium where orientation movies are shown, a museum, a gift shop/bookstore, and an information desk that is staffed by knowledgeable rangers. They have brochures describing the National Seashore, its areas, and its many activities. A bike trail and walking trails start at the center. They are described elsewhere in this book. Look into the Junior Ranger Program for children.

Museums and Places of Interest

SCHOOLHOUSE MUSEUM, Nauset Road. opposite the National Seashores Salt Pond Visitor Center.

Owned and operated by the Eastham Historical Society.

Open Monday through Friday, July and August, Saturdays in September, 1-4 p.m. 508-255-0788.

This one-room schoolhouse was built in 1869 and used as a schoolhouse until 1936. It is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. The Historical Society was organized in 1963, then bought the abandoned building to house their collections. It contains school memorabilia, household and farm implements, and artifacts of the fishing industry, shipwrecks, and the Life Saving Service (forerunner of today's Coast Guard).

WINDMILL, on the Green, Route 6, Eastham center.

Owned and operated by the town of Eastham.

Open during summer from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

This typical windmill, noted in the National Register, was built in 1680 in Plimouth, and was moved to Truro before arriving in Eastham on a site near Salt Pond. In 1808 it was moved to its present location where it was used until 1896. In 1928 the town of Eastham bought the mill and, when repairs were completed, opened it to the public in 1936. The town still employs millers who explain and demonstrate its use during the summer months. There are benches and a bandstand on the green.

Open Monday through Friday, July and August, Saturdays in September, 1-4 p.m. 508-240-1247.

This bowed-roof, Cape Cod-style house was built in 1741, and is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. It is completely furnished and has collections of clothing, china, quilts, and Indian artifacts. An out-building houses hundreds of tools. There is also an authentic "beach shack," listed in the National Register, on the grounds.

SITE OF THE FIRST ENCOUNTER, First Encounter Beach, Samoset Road. This is where an exploring party from the "Mayflower" met Native Americans for the first time. There are two plaques commemorating this event. One is at the edge of the parking lot facing the bay. The other is on the hill at the top of an asphalt path.

THE CAPE COD NATIONAL SEASHORE'S, SALT POND VISITOR CENTER, Route 6, contains a museum with exhibits of Cape Cod's human and natural history.

The Visitor Center will be closed for renovation from mid-October 2002 until Spring 2004.

CAPTAIN PENNIMAN HOUSE, Fort Hill Road, is a Victorian house built in 1867 by the captain of a whaling ship. It is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Jawbones from a whale form a gate. Interpretive sign. Check at the Salt Pond Visitor Center if you wish to view the interior.

THE THREE SISTERS, Cable Road. In 1892 these three wooden towers, listed in the National Register, replaced by three brick towers that fell into the sea in 1923. The single lighthouse that can be seen near the beach later replaced them. After being used as summer cottages for years, they were restored by the National Seashore. The desk at the Salt Pond Visitor Center will have information about viewing the interiors. Park in the Nauset Light Beach parking lot and follow the path/signs.

NAUSET LIGHT, Nauset Light Beach. This picturesque lighthouse, its oil house and keepers house, all listed in the National Register, were owned and operated by the U.S. Coast Guard. When erosion by the ocean threatened to tumble them down the bluff the Nauset Light Preservation Society was formed, funds collected, and in 1996 the lighthouse and oil house were moved back from the edge. They are now being restored and maintained by the Society who also conduct tours during the summer. The keeper's house was moved away from the bluff in 1998. It is used as a private residence. Park in the beach parking lot and follow the path/signs to the lighthouse.

COAST GUARD STATION, Doane Road. This photogenic station was built in 1937 to replace an older station that was lost to erosion. It now belongs to the National Seashore and was used as the headquarters building when the park was getting established. Students participating in an overnight environmental education program now use it.

UNITARIAN-UNIVERSALIST CHURCH, 220 Samoset Road, is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. It also has a sign explaining its Peat Septic System.

WHALES

Whales migrate during the spring to a feeding ground just north of Cape Cod called Stellwagen Bank. During the summer months these saltwater mammals feed on the abundant plankton in the Bank's waters.

Provincetown is the whale watching capital of the Eastern seaboard. Since the whales stay off the coast for months, the tours can almost guarantee a sighting on each trip. The proximity of Stellwagen Bank to Provincetown provides short trips to the areas and longer stays for observations. Whale watching trips often encounter several whale species along with dolphins, porpoises and seals.

The sighting of a whale is a memorable experience. These ocean giants seem to welcome visits from tour boats and observers can comprehend their peaceful co-existence with man.

FRESHWATER FISHING

Great, Herring, and Minister Ponds offer excellent freshwater fishing from shore or boat. Boat motors are restricted to three horsepower on all but Great Pond where up to 50 hp motors may be used. Boat must be inspected annually by the Department of Natural Resources and display a sticker. During cold winters ice fishing is a possibility. There are trout, large or small mouth bass, pickerel, perch, catfish, and bluegills. When fishing from shore please respect private property. A Massachusetts freshwater fishing license is required. It may be purchased at sporting goods stores, bait shops, or from the Town Clerk at Town Hall.

SALTWATER FISHING

Striped bass, bluefish, cod, mackerel, flounder, haddock, pollock, tautog, black sea bass, shark, and tuna are saltwater species pursued by fishermen in local waters. Whether fishing from shore or boat, using boat, casting, fly rods, live bait, plugs, or flies there is fishing fun for everyone. Take a four or eight hour charter trip out of Rock Harbor. All captains and boats are Coast Guard approved. Their boats will accommodate up to six people and all bait and tackle is provided. Try your hand at surf fishing from the ocean beaches. Fly-fishing can be done in almost any waters. A striped bass on the end of your fly line is something to remember. No license is required for saltwater fishing but there are minimum size and catch limits.

SHELLFISHING

The coves and flats of Eastham are home to soft-shelled, sea, and razor clams, quahogs, scallops, oysters, and mussels. Salt Pond is stocked regularly with quahogs for the harvesting enjoyment of residents and visitors alike on Sundays throughout the year. A permit is required for the taking of shellfish. It may be purchased at the Department of Natural Resources, Old Orchard Road. Proper tools are required and can be found at local hardware, bait, and sports shops.

BOATING

A variety of boating may be done in the waters in and around town. Canoes and kayaks will find the Town Cove/Salt Pond/Nauset Marsh area particularly suitable. The National Seashore, Massachusetts Audubon and Cape Cod Museum of Natural History offer guided canoe tours.

Motorized boats of up to three hp are permitted on freshwater ponds, up to 50 hp on Great Pond where water-skiing is allowed on even numbered days only. Boats with motors must be inspected and display a sticker issued annually by the Department of Natural Resources. Large boats should launch at Rock Harbor where there is a ramp and access to Cape Cod Bay. Personal Watercraft (Jet-Skis) are prohibited from operation in Nauset Marsh and Town Cove as well as freshwater ponds. All boaters should take great care when near the inlet at the Nauset Harborway. Tidal currents are very powerful and can be quite dangerous. Launching ramps and areas are described elsewhere in this book. Check them out before trying to use them to be sure it is suitable for you and your boat. Remember that salt waters are tidal and will affect launching and navigating in many areas. Local conditions can affect the tidal period. Be sure to get a tide table for the area you will be boating. Mooring registration and regulations may be obtained from the Department of Natural Resources, Old Orchard Road.

BIRD WATCHING

The Cape is an excellent place to bird. The many different habitats ensure a good variety of species. Any of the trails listed above are good places to start. Great and Herring Ponds have numerous ducks until they freeze over. The bay, ocean, and inland shores are excellent for sea ducks, grebes, gulls, shorebirds, etc.

Good Birding!

SURFING/WINDSURFING

Surfing the ocean waves is a popular sport and windsurfing can be done on the ocean, bay, cove, or Great Pond. All surfing must be done outside of areas protected by lifeguards.

SWIMMING

There are freshwater beaches on both sides of Great Pond. The town maintains several beaches on Cape Cod Bay. The Cape Cod National Seashore operates two ocean beaches. Refer the section on BEACHES elsewhere in this book for particulars.

BIKING

There is a Bike Trails page with a map and information in this book.

THE CAPE COD RAIL TRAIL runs from Dennis to Wellfleet traversing the town of Eastham from north to south. In Eastham short detours will take you to beaches, parks, and restaurants, etc. Several accommodations provide access to the trail from their grounds.

NAUSET TRAIL, 1.6 miles, is maintained by the National Seashore and runs between the Salt Pond Visitor Center and Coast Guard Beach. This trail winds through fields and woods, by the Doane Rock picnic area, and across a salt marsh via a bridge.

Hikers, in-line skaters, horseback riders, etc. also use most bike paths. Please be cautious and courteous. Ride safely, and be sure to stop and look at intersections with roads. Massachusetts law requires helmets for children 12 and under. Rental bikes are available in Eastham.

HIKING/WALKING

Hiking the beaches, hiking trails, bike trails, and conservation areas is a wonderful way to get to know the woods and waters that comprise Eastham. Check rules applicable to each area. Some limit dogs. Please be considerate of private property.

WILEY PARK CONSERVATION AREA, Herring Brook Road. Short trails wind through the woods with views of the ponds. Park in the Wiley Park parking lot or the turnoff by Bridge Pond. A sticker or daily fee is required during the summer season.

COTTONTAIL ACRES CONSERVATION AREA. This 27-acre conservation area is on the north side of Herring Pond with paths that lead to views of the pond. There is a parking area at the corner of Samoset and Lawton Roads. A sign marks the trailhead.

LAMONT SMITH CONSERVATION AREA. 24 acres of woods and blueberry swamp with a loop trail. Parking at the end of Peach Orchard Lane.

The Cape Cod National Seashore has several interesting trails. Stop at the Visitor Center for a brochure. Look for the distinctive brown signs that indicate park areas.

FORT HILL TRAIL This 1.5-mile trail is accessible from either the parking area at Fort Hill, Fort Hill Road, or from the Hemenway Landing parking lot, Hemenway Road. From Fort Hill it has several loops so shorter walks may be taken. There are wonderful views of Nauset Marsh and the ocean from these paths. They are interconnected with The Red Maple Swamp Trail described below. The early riser can watch the sun rise out of the ocean from this spot and, on some nights of the year, the full moon puts on a spectacular show as it rises from the sea. These upland paths wind through fields and woods. There is a pavilion at the site of an Indian sharpening rock and benches at the overlooks and at the upper Fort Hill parking lot. Restrooms are near the Hemenway Landing area.

RED MAPLE SWAMP TRAIL. This 0.5-mile trail can be reached from the Fort Hill Trail described above or from the Hemenway Landing parking area. There is a boardwalk that winds through the swamp. It is partially handicapped accessible from Hemenway Landing. The tangles often have numerous birds and the wood anemones in spring are lovely.

NAUSET MARSH TRAIL. A 1.0-mile trail that starts from the Salt Pond Visitor Center winds along Salt Pond and Nauset Marsh then returns through old fields and woods.

DOANE TRAIL. A 0.5-mile trail that begins at the Doane Rock picnic area on Nauset Road. Doane Rock was a place to picnic and let the children play long before the creation of the National Seashore. This rock is the largest erratic boulder left by the glaciers that formed Cape Cod. The trail goes through Pitch Pine woods that are gradually being replaced by oak trees.

BUTTONBUSH TRAIL. This 0.25-mile trail, created for the visually handicapped, begins at the Salt Pond Visitor Center. It features Braille and large print signs and a guide rope. Enjoy the sound, feel, and smells along this trail.

RUNNING

The miles of quiet back roads and trails in Eastham are ideal for runners. When the tide is out on the byside, miles of flats are available to the runner. A jog on beach sand will give a good workout on a surface that gives and is easy on the joints and feet. If you like racing check local newspapers for information on upcoming competitions.

TENNIS

Some accommodations have tennis courts for the use of their guests.

There are five courts at the High School on Cable Road.

PLAYGROUNDS

There is play equipment behind the Elementary School, Schoolhouse Road.

Wiley Park Conservation Area, Herring Brook Road, has a playground. There are benches, picnic tables and restrooms also.

FIELD SPORTS

The Elementary School, Schoolhouse Road, has a baseball field and basketball court.

The High School, Cable Road, has baseball, soccer, and football fields, a track, and basketball hoops.

The Field of Dreams, behind Town Hall, has two baseball fields, soccer nets, and a basketball court.

CAPE COD'S PROFESSIONAL ARTS & CRAFTS SHOWS

Cape Cod is a mecca for artists & craftsmen from across the USA. There are shows from July to October. Many artists and crafters move to Cape Cod because of the high concentration of professional JURIED shows within a 90 mile radius that draw thousands of residents and tourists every year. Many crafters build up a customer base and are so successful they eventually open their own gallery or shop. Virtually every artist's gallery, potter or craft shop started at the Arts and Crafts Shows! We've had some very well known artists & craftsmen in our Cape shows. They come from all over the United States.

American arts and crafts are in demand today and always have been. People revolve their vacations around which show they want to attend. Some of these shows are the best in the United States.

The word professional in a show description means that the crafter or artist is doing his art or craft to make a living. They must make it themselves. A good show is going to be JURIED for quality, workmanship and originality - it doesn't have to be high priced to be JURIED. A good show will have balance, meaning not too many of one thing. The Cape shows and festivals are geared for all price ranges. We have very expensive paintings and jewelry, 14K gold and precious stones, medium priced semi-precious stones, fused glass jewelry, handmade clothing, doll makers, leather, hand painted furniture, handmade flags, even homemade fudge.

These shows are a great boost to the economy in each town. People stay at the inns and motels, shop in the stores, buy gas, and eat at restaurants.

So while you're here on Cape Cod enjoying the sun and sand, lobster and great shops, take some time to go to one of the wonderful well-known award-winning professional Arts & Crafts Shows. You won't be disappointed if it's an L&R Production Show.

The Annual Falmouth Village Professional Arts and Crafts Street Festival and the Annual Harwich Cranberry Professional Arts and Crafts Festival have been awarded the top 200 Professional Arts & Crafts Festival Awards in the United States by Sunshine National Arts & Crafts Magazine.

For more information call L&R Productions at 508-385-8689, visit our website at www.capecodcraftshows.com or e-mail us at Crafts@tiac.net.
